The Most Comprehensive Resources, Even After You Purchase

At Epilog, we want to give you every opportunity to make the most of your new laser system. If you've visited our website, you've seen the comprehensive collection of information we provide to help you decide which laser is right for your application. But what about after the purchase? To help you succeed with your new Epilog Laser, we've created a selection of resources designed to inspire you with new ideas and ways to get even more value out of your laser system.

Virtual Training Suite

Looking for additional training or instructions for a new machine operator? The Epilog Virtual Training Suite is a free collection of videos and step-by-step instructions that walk you through the basics of setting up your new machine, as well as running your first jobs on the laser. The Virtual Training Suite is exclusive to Epilog Laser customers, and features videos and tutorials that range from setup instructions to sample projects, allowing you to get a feel for your laser system.

When We Have a New Driver, You're The First to Know

We don't understand why some companies make it so difficult to find out about feature updates on their lasers. We regularly offer new features to our machines through driver and firmware updates, so to make sure you have the latest and greatest version we created an email notification system to let you know when a new driver or firmware is available. All you need to do is to go to our website and download the most current versions!

A Hands-On, Printed Manual

When you're working with our equipment, we know you don't want to have to constantly refer to a computer screen or electronic manual. While Epilog does feature our user manuals online, you will also receive a printed version with over 270 pages of content. This isn't a quick start guide - this is a comprehensive look at how to use our system's many features, and it's a great place to jot down notes, highlight content and ear-mark pages to your heart's content!

Online Sample Club

The number one thing customers ask for is ideas that allow them to make money with their lasers. Our Online Sample Club provides hundreds of files for you to download and create with your laser. From inlaid plaques to engraved leather guitar straps, to stone etching and electronics engraving, you'll always find something new in the
